

(C) Singapore Press Holdings Limited

HeadLine: FISH-FINGER FEEDINGS

Photographer: Lim Wui Liang

Publication: ST^ST

Date: 14/11/2007

Page: 1

No magic tricks used here. Visitors to Sentosa's Underwater World place their hands through holes in the side of a tank to feed fishes - and yet the water does not flow out.

This phenomenon is actually a lesson in science. A vacuum is created at the top of the tank, creating low pressure inside. This ensures the water does not flow out through the holes, so visitors can literally reach into another world.